

Game Over

If you've got this far: Congratulations, you've completed Throwback! Job well done! We hope that you learned something from this grand experience, and we apologize if you have any issues along the way -- this is a project that is a first of it's kind for TryHackMe and we strive to make it the best experience we can. If you have any suggestions, complaints, and recommendations you will be emailed a link to a Google Forms Survey shortly after completion.

Getting Your Certificate

After all tasks are completed, you can now claim a Certification of Completion. This can be found by scrolling to the top of the page and clicking the "Certificate" button.

After pressing the button, a prompt should appear saying "Fetching certificate, please wait." and within a few moments a new browser window will open with your Certificate in a png format

Thank You

Thank you to Ashu, Ben, and Jon from TryHackMe who help make this all possible. Thank you to our lovely Beta Testers, James, John Hammond, Oriel, Tiberius, and Tim Taylor, we would probably still be fixing and testing if it wasn't for you guys. Thanks for keeping us up night after night constantly finding bugs. Remember, everything always works in Dev, but nothing ever works in Prod. Thank you for bearing with us and pushing through to the very end. And lastly, Thank you for playing.

Answer the questions below

Claim your Certificate!

No answer needed